

List of Things Arnie Could Do Instead of Being Eaten

 _____ _____ _____ _____ _____ _____ _____ _____

On the back of this sheet, make notes about whether these roles would work or not.

Arnie the Doughnut

Note

Notice

Your Story Outline

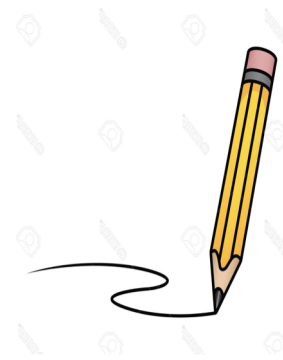

Who are your main characters? List & describe them in a few words.

Where does your story take place? Describe the setting (full sentences or point form).

Design your main 'food' character. Draw them and answer the following questions about them:

- What is their name?
- Where were they made?
- Do they know that they are food and will be eaten?
- Do they have any hobbies? If so, what are they?
- What is something that makes them special?

Your Story Outline

Write your hook.

In point form, describe your rising action (beginning of story).

Your Story Outline

In point form, describe your climax (main event).

In point form, describe your falling action (how the problems are being resolved).

Your Story Outline

In point form, describe the ending of you story.

List any details you don't want to forget when you begin to write your story!